West Texas Women Compete for Crown

Melissa Luna, El Paso, was crowned Miss Howard College 1981 by Carol Morehead in the Howard College Auditorium. Beverly Wheeler, Big Spring, was selected first runner-up, with Lori Phinney, Coahoma, second runner-up. Sherri Blalack was voted Miss Congeniality by the contestants.

The pageant began with the entrance of each girl wearing a baseball cap donated by the sponsor. The contestants then modeled their campus wear with confidence, moving into the swimsuit competition with courage, and ending with evening wear.

The Howard College Jazz Lab Band contributed to the pageant by playing music while the girls modeled. Other entertainment, provided to give the girls time to change, included The New Dimension, directed by Joe Whitten, and members of Fantasy, performing songs in sign language. The Rodeo Team also contributed by demonstrating rope tricks.

PRCLSASSIDENTSIAL

Presidential Classics

In 1977 Howard College established the Presidential Classics, a scholarship program for the college's co-ed students. The college was one of the first to establish such a program, and each year between eight and ten young women are selected to represent the college as a Classic.

The Classics act as official hostesses at college functions, represent the district at community events, conduct tours of the campus, assist with recruiting and registration for fall and spring semesters, and represent the college at selected out-of-town events.

There are several requirements for becoming a member of this prestigious group. The selection is based on both academic and extra-curricular activities. The Classics must maintain at least a "B" average and carry a load of at least 15 hours each semester. A high academic average indicates a strong student whose studies will not suffer as a result of missing a few days because of an out-of-town trip. Each of the young women must have the recommendation of her high school counselor or principal.

Classics Official Hostesses

The rewards for being a Presidential Classic are well worth the stringent requirements and many duties that each girl performs. The benefits include a scholarship for fees, books, room and $50 toward board for those who live in the dorm. For those not living in the dorm, the scholarship covers fees, books, and $100. The scholarship also includes two sets of clothes, one formal and one casual to wear when representing the district; local and state publicity; and the prestige and honor of being a member of this highly select group.

This year's Classics consist of eight young women, six from Big Spring High School and two from Coahoma. They are Sherri Blalack, Debbie Fulcher, Lori Phinney, Sharie Shaw, Jamie Sink, Brenda Trevino, Cathy Weeks, and Beverly Wheeler. Jamie Sink is the group's only sophomore and returning Classic.

Hawks Boast Successful Season

The 1981-1982 season was another successful one for the Hawks. The Hawks, led by one returning sophomore, Jerome Johnson, finished the year with a fine 22-9 record. The Hawks, predicted to finish last in the tough Western Conference, finished strong as the Hawks captured fourth and a trip to Regionals.

Hawks named to the All-Conference squad include Nathan Givens and Leon Isaac. Jerome Johnson received honorable mention.

Organizations

Phi Theta Kappa strives

Phi Theta Kappa is the national junior college honorary scholarship society. Iota Beta is the local chapter, which was organized in 1956. Members comprise the upper scholastic ten percent of the student body. The purpose of Phi Theta Kappa is to promote scholarship, to provide recognition for scholarship, and to cultivate fellowship among top-ranking scholastic students of the junior colleges of the United States. The sponsors of Phi Theta Kappa are Susan King and Ralph Smith.

Student Government Association Plans Activities

The Student Senate is the representative body of the Student Government Association. Through this senate, students are given an opportunity to promote student government and to develop and manage a well-rounded program of student activities. The senate acts as an intermediary between the students, faculty and administration. Students elect the senate during the fall semester.

Hawk Reporter Gets New Format

The Hawk Reporter provides an opportunity for students to gain experience working on a newspaper. The Hawk Reporter also serves to inform the student body, faculty, and community by explaining through words and photographs what happens on campus and why it happens. The publications advisor is Linda Woodley.
